The Newington Police Department has graciously issued a blanket permit for those who sign up on this site. We will publicize the event on Facebook and the town's event page, and local publications. Households as well as local organizations are welcome to join!

Once we are closer to the event, we will publish a list of addresses so shoppers can "sale" around town! (you have to clean your own garage, though)

For households and individuals, we will only publicize your address. For organizations, we will contact you for more information (location of group tag sale)
